Hockey Express rolls into city

Thursday July 05, 2007

By Times-Journal Staff

The weather may shout baseball, soccer and football, however the main attraction this Sunday at the Timken Centre is hockey.

The Central Elgin Express of the Southern Ontario Junior Hockey League are holding an invitation only prospect evaluation game 6 p.m. Sunday featuring many of the players who participated in the Lambeth Lancers prospect camp this spring hosted by then coach and general manager Mike Herman.

Herman and his entire coaching and training staff have since departed the Lancers to join the Express and these players have followed suit.

The Express, the new junior affiliate of the Jr. B St. Thomas Stars, will hold its own prospect camp August 27 beginning at 8:30 p.m. in the Timken Centre and all local minor hockey players born in 1990-92 are welcome to attend the camp.

The team, which played some of its home games in Belmont last year, will base its entire operation in Port Stanley this season and Herman is optimistic the Express web site, www.centralelginexpress.com, will be up and running in the next few days with contacts, camp and schedule details.
